

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AFTER THE CHERNOBYL ACCIDENT: STUDIES, REMARKS AND RECENT FINDINGS

21-22-23 June 2011 – Udine, Italy

Scientific committee

G. Mattassi – ARPA Friuli Venezia Giulia - Italy
C. Giovani – ARPA Friuli Venezia Giulia - Italy
M. Garavaglia – ARPA Friuli Venezia Giulia - Italy
M. Magnoni – ARPA Piemonte - Italy
S. Risica – Istituto Superiore di Sanità (ISS) - Italy
U. Sansone – Istituto Superiore per la Protezione e la Ricerca Ambientale (ISPRA) - Italy
G. Torri – Istituto Superiore per la Protezione e la Ricerca Ambientale (ISPRA) - Italy
F. Trotti – ARPA Veneto - Italy

The conference addresses the latest scientific findings on the health and environmental impact of the Chernobyl accident, to develop a common view within the international scientific community regarding the consequences of the disaster and its ecological, health and social implications 25 years after the event.

Scientific topics

- Focal Point: Health and Environmental Effects of the Chernobyl accident
- Radiation Protection, Radioecology and Environmental Protection
- Emergency Management
- Remediation of Contaminated Sites
- Alarm and Monitoring Networks
- Innovations and trends in Internal Dosimetry

Affiliation of the invited speakers (to be confirmed)

European Commission - DG JRC, Institute for Environment and Sustainability – I
Federal Office for Radiation Protection (BfS) – DE
International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) , Terrestrial Environment Laboratory- A
Istituto Nazionale di Metrologia delle Radiazioni Ionizzanti – ENEA – I
Istituto Superiore di Sanità (National Institute of Health, Technology and Health Department)- I
Istituto Superiore per la Protezione e la Ricerca Ambientale (ISPRA) – I
Jožef Stefan Institute – SLO
Natural Environment Research Council, Centre for Ecology & Hydrology (CEH) – UK
School in Science Communication, SISSA – I
Slovenian Nuclear Safety Administration - SLO
World Health Organization, International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) – F
Other national and international experts

The working languages of the Conference will be Italian and English. Simultaneous translation will be available.

The conference committee is calling for contributions for poster presentations. The deadline for submitting abstracts (A4, 1 page) is 22 March 2011. Send to chernobyl25@arpa.fvg.it

Registration: No registration fee is required, however registration is kindly requested. Online registration will be opened on the ARPA FVG website. (www.arpa.fvg.it)

Conference organizers can be contacted by email at chernobyl25@arpa.fvg.it